Meſſrs Edes & Gill,

AS the Day of Prayer and Thankſgiving lately appointed by His Excellency, is to be kept by the Miniſters of GOD's holy Word aſſembling together, I could have wiſhed that the Council had adviſed the Governor to fix the Day on the 17th Currant, as there will be then without doubt a very large Aſſembly of Miniſters at Cambridge; and as no particular Place is aſſigned for 'em to meet at, I ſuppoſe Cambridge as ſuitable as any; this would have ſaved the Miniſters much Time and Trouble: Poſſibly there was a Miſtake in the printed Copy of the Proclamation, and that the 17th Day was intended inſtead of the 24th. if ſo, no doubt the Miniſters will be timely notified of it.

EGO.

BOSTON, July 14.

Laſt Wedneſday Morning died here greatly and ſincerely lamented, by all who knew him, the Reverend JONATHAN MAYHEW, D. D. Æt. 46. a Friend to Liberty and Learning, a Lover of Mankind, and a uniform Diſciple of Jeſus Chriſt.

Soon after he had finiſhed his Studies at Cambridge, where he exhibited lively Marks of an original Genius, he was called in the Year 1747, to the Paſtoral Care of the Weſt Church in Boſton, which he accepted; promiſing, like a true Chriſtian to make the Word of GOD his only Rule of Faith and Practice, and ſtedfaſtly refuſing to teach for Doctrines the Commandments of Men.—In this Charge he continued 'till his Death, loving his People, and by them beloved, explaining with manly Fortitude ſuch Truths as he found contained in the Bible however diſcountenanced, eſteeming the Approbation of his Father in Heaven far before the Applauſe of the World, conſtantly inculcating, by his Preaching and Conduct, the Doctrines of Grace, as delivered by our Saviour and his Apoſtles, and that Religion which is from above, and is full of Mercy and good Fruits; without Partiality, and without Hypocriſy.

In his early Productions, his uncommon Talents, and generous Independency of Spirit, are eminently conſpicuous: And though, for his declared Enmity to every Prieſtly Uſurpation of Authority over the Conſciences of Men, he had very ſoon to encounter the whole Force of Enthuſiaſm and Bigotry; yet his Strength of Mind, Integrity of Soul, and unconquerable Reſolution in his Maſter's Service, ſupported him under every temporal Diſcouragement, and enabled him to triumph over all his Adverſaries; while his Reſpect for, and Obſervance of, the Precepts of the Goſpel, at length convinced the World of the Sincerity and Uprightneſs of his Heart.

His Works already Publiſhed, will tranſmit his Name to Poſterity, under the endearing Character of a ſteady and able Advocate for religious and civil Liberty, and of a firm Believer, as well as conſtant Practiſer of pure and undefiled Religion, as contained in the Scriptures; of which, as he left every one to judge for himſelf, ſo he always inſiſted on the ſame Indulgence; never preſuming to force his Doctrines further than their Truth and the Goſpel would carry them.

If at any Time, thro' the Warmth of his Imagination, his Earneſtneſs in the Cauſe of Religion and Truth, and his fixed averſion to eſtabliſhments of Men in the Church of Chriſt, he may, in ſome few Inſtances have been hurried beyond the Bounds of Moderation, his many Virtues, and great Services towards eſtabliſhing Chriſtianity on the moſt enlarged Foundation, abundantly atone for ſuch Foibles: Indeed the natural Keeneſs and Poignancy of his Wit, whetted often by cruel and unchriſtian Uſage, muſt paliate his ſevereſt ſtrokes of Satire. Nor will theſe light Objections depreciate his general Reputation, if it be remembred, that in his moſt ſocial Hours, he invariably ſuſtained the united Character of the Chriſtian and the Gentleman.

FROM the influence of his extenſive Correſpondence with ſome of the wiſeſt & beſt Men in the Engliſh Nation, that Seminary of Learning in which he was educated, received many & conſiderable Donations; and if in him that Seat of Literature has not loſt a wealthy Benefactor, it is deprived of one who virtually by his Influence might have been ſuch, and one who was a ſincere Friend to that Freedom of Education which is eſſentially neceſſary to the well being of any Academy deſigned for the Education of Youth and the Benefit of Mankind——

In him, it may be truly ſaid, his diſconſolate Widow has loſt a kind and affectionate Huſband, his Children a tender and faithful Parent, his Family a humane and indulgent Maſter; the Poor of all Denominations a charitable and conſtant Friend; his Church a worthy, learned, ſocial, virtuous and religious Paſtor; this Continent a reſolute and ſtrong Defender of its religious Independency; and Mankind a bold and nervous aſſertor of their Rights, and that Liberty wherewith Chriſt has made them free.

His Funeral which was attended on Friday laſt, by all ranks of people, of every denomination, was at once a ſtriking Inſtance of that univerſal eſteem he juſtly merited, and that charity he was remarkable for when alive, being in all reſpects worthy ſo great and benevolent a character, and as numerous and melancholy a proceſſion as was ever known in this town.

Wrapt in his Arms who bled on Calv'ry's Plain,
We murmur not, bleſt Shade! nor dare complain:
Fled to thoſe Seats where perfect Spirits ſhine,
We mourn our Lot, yet ſtill rejoice in thine;
Taught by thy Tongue, by thy Example led,
We bleſt Thee living, and revere Thee dead.
Paſs'd from our View, our Eyes no more ſhall ſee,
Or Truth, our Ears again receive from Thee;
Yet long our Hearts, thy precepts ſhall retain,
Deep in our Memory thy Love remain;
Our Care be ſtill in virtuous Deeds to vie,
Our conſtant Pray'r, like Thee to live and die.

By another Hand.

Laſt Wedneſday morning died univerſally lamented, that great friend to liberty, to learning, and to mankind, that faithful ſervant of GOD, and diſciple of Jeſus Chriſt, the Rev. JONATHAN MAYHEW, D. D. Æt. 46. He was matriculated at Cambridge, A. D. 1740. and his genius being truly original, he with great facility ſoon diſtinguiſhed himſelf in the various branches of polite and uſeful literature. Having finiſhed his academical ſtudies, and a courſe of divinity, he was in the year 1747 called to and accepted the paſtoral care of the Weſt Church in Boſton, in which to the inexpreſſible comfort and ſatisfaction of the people providence had committed to his charge, he continued till his laſt illneſs.

He was a great divine, an excellent preacher, and one of the greateſt polemical writers this or any other country has ſeen. He was a ſingular and rare inſtance of a ready, keen and piercing wit, united with a ſound judgment, deep underſtanding and profound erudition. His works have been publiſhed, re-publiſhed, read and admired both in Europe and America, and have already furniſhed out a monument for their author, much more durable than marble or braſs. Some of the wiſeſt and beſt men in Britain early ſought a literary correſpondence with the Doctor, which was kept up till his death. This he was ever ſolicitous of turning as far as poſſible to the advantage of his country. Alma mater has often taſted of the bounties of his particular friends, among whom the name of HOLLIS ſhall be had in grateful remembrance ſo long as there is a citizen of the world who can ſtile himſelf her ſon and his brother.

By the death of Dr. MAYHEW, his diſconſolate widow has loſt an affectionate huſband, his tender infants will never know what they have loſt—His ſervants are deprived of a humane and indulgent maſter; the poor of a charitable and conſtant friend—— His church are bereaved of a worthy, able, virtuous and pious paſtor; this continent of a reſolute and ſtrong defender of its religious independency; and mankind of a judicious and ſtrenuous aſſerter of thoſe original, inherent and indefeaſzable rights, with which the GOD of nature hath inveſted us, and of that glorious liberty where with Chriſt has made us all free.

Ah MAYHEW! art thou then for ever gone?
No. I've oft ſeen the greatly falling ſun
Leave the blue arch, and threaten endleſs night;
Yet riſe again, and bleſs a world with light.
Thus in thy works ſhalt thou revolving ſhine,
And prove the hand that form'd them was divine;
'Till that great day, when night ſhall be no more,
And tyrants ceaſe to perſecute the poor:
When none ſhall dread the bigots ſcourging rod,
But ev'ry upright heart rejoice in GOD.

This Morning arrived the Jamaica Sloop of War from Halifax. As did alſo Capt. Atwood in 9 Days.

(Signed) JOHN ERVING, per Order.

The Governor opened the Session of the General Court on the 25th of September following with a Speech, wherein is the following Paragraph, viz.

" Gentlemen of the House of Representatives,

I must recommend to you to do an Act of Justice, which at the same Time will reflect Credit upon yourselves: I mean to order a Compensation to be made to the Sufferers by the late Disturbances. Their Losses are too great for them to set down with; one of them amounts to a very large Sum. You must be sensible that it will be expected that these Damages be made good; and it will be better for you to do it of your own Accord before any Requisition is made to you. An Estimate of these Damages is made by a Committee of the Council pursuant to Order, which will be laid before you."

On the 27th of September his Excellency prorogued the General Court to Wednesday the 23d of October: The Court being then met, the House of Representatives on the 24th send a Message to the Governour in answer to his Speech of the 25th of September, and in reply to the foregoing Paragraph observe as follows, viz.

" Your Excellency is pleased to recommend a Compensation to be made to the Sufferers by the late Disturbances: We highly disapprove of the Acts of Violence which have been committed; yet till we are convinced that to comply with what your Excellency recommends, will not tend to encourage such Outrages in Time to come, and till some good Reason can be assigned why the Losses those Gentlemen have sustained should be made good, rather than any Damage which other Persons, on any different Occasions, might happen to suffer, we are persuaded we shall not see our Way clear to order [illegible] tion to be made. We are [illegible] who has Right to requi[illegible] differ [illegible] your Excell[illegible] of [illegible]ice which co[illegible]

We cannot conceive why it should be called an Act of Justice, rather than Generosity, unless your Excellency supposes a Crime committed by a few Individuals, chargeable upon a whole Community."

Nothing more was done in this Business during the Continuance of the then General Assembly.

A few Days after the Meeting of a new Assembly in May 1766, his Excellency received a Letter from Mr. Secretary CONWAY, dated St. James's, 31st March, 1766, wherein he writes as follows,

" Nothing will tend more effectually to every conciliating Purpose, and there is nothing therefore I have in Command more earnestly to require of you, than that you should exert yourself in recommending it strongly to the Assembly, that full and ample Compensation be made to those, who, from the Madness of the People have suffered for their Deference to Acts of the British Legislature. And you will be particularly attentive that such Persons be effectually secured from any further Insult, and that, as far as in you lies, you will take Care by your Example and Influence, that they may be treated with that respect to their Persons and that Justice in regard to all their Pretensions, which their Merits and Sufferings undoubtedly claim.

The Resolutions of the House of Commons which by His Majesty's Command, I transmit to you, to be laid before the Assembly, will shew you the Sense of that House on those Points: And I am persuaded it will, as it most certainly ought, be the Glory of that Assembly, to adopt and imitate those Sentiments of the British Parliament founded on the clearest Principles of Humanity and Justice."

The Resolutions of the House of Commons relating to this Business are as follows,

" Resolved, That it is the Opinion of this Committee, that such Persons, who, on Account of the Desire which they have manifested to comply with, or to assist in carrying into Execution, any [illegible] of the Legislature of Great-Britain, relating to the British Colonies in North-America, have suffered any Injury or Damage, ought to have full Compensation made to them for the same, by the respective Colonies in which such Injuries or Damages were sustained."

" Resolved, That an humble Address be presented to his Majesty, humbly to desire that his Majesty will be graciously pleased to give Directions, that the said Resolutions be transmitted to the Governors of his Majesty's Colonies and Plantations in America, to be by them communicated to the Assemblies of their respective Governments."

On the 3d of June his Excellency made a Speech to the two Houses upon the Subject-Matters of Mr. Secretary CONWAY's Letter, and having communicated the said Letter to them, together with the Resolutions of the House of Commons, he observes thereupon as follows, viz.

" I am also ordered to recommend to you, that full and ample Compensation be made to the late Sufferers by the Madness of the People: and for that Purpose I am directed to lay before you the Votes of the House of Commons expressing their Sense upon that Subject; whose Humanity and Justice it is hoped it will be your Glory to imitate."

" Gentlemen of the House of Representatives,

" The Requisition contained in this Letter is of a most singular nature, and the only one of the Kind that I have known since I have served his Majesty in America. It is founded upon a Resolution of the House of Commons, formed after a full Consideration of the Matter, and represented to His Majesty by the Address of that House. The Justice and Humanity of this Requisition is so forceable that it cannot be controverted; the Authority with which it is introduced should preclude all Disputation about complying with it. I hope therefore you will add to the Merit of your Compliance by the Readiness of it, and assume to yourselves the Honour which now offers itself, of setting the first Example of Gratitude and dutiful Affection, to the King and Parliament, by giving those Proofs of it, which are now pointed out to you. I must observe that it is from the Provincial Assembly that the King and Parliament expect this Compensation should be made to the Sufferers, without referring them to any other Persons whatsoever. Who ought finally to be charged with this Expence, may be a proper Consideration for you; and I shall readily concur with you in your Resolutions thereon, after the Sufferers have been fully satisfied."

The House of Representatives in a Message in answer to this Speech say upon this Head,

" The Recommendation enjoined by Mr. Secretary CONWAY's Letter, and in Consequence thereof made to us, we shall embrace the first convenient Opportunity to consider and act upon. In the mean Time cannot but observe, that it is conceived in much higher and stronger Terms in the Speech than in the Letter. Whether in thus exceeding, your Excellency speaks by your own Authority, or a higher, is not with us to determine. However, if this Recommendation, which your Excellency terms a Requisition, be founded on " so much Justice and Humanity that it cannot be controverted": If " the Authority with which it is introduced should preclude all Disputation about complying with it", we should be glad to know what Freedom we have in the Case."

On the 25th of June the House resuming the further Consideration of this Matter, sent the following Message to the Governor.

" May it please your Excellency,

The House of Representatives have duly attended to that Part of your Excellency's Speech which had reference to a full and ample Compensation to be made to the Sufferers in the late Disturbances.

We are sensibly affected with the Loss they have sustained, and have the greatest Abhorrence of the Madness and Barbarity of those Persons who were the Instruments of their Sufferings,—nothing shall be omitted by us in our Department to bring the Perpetrators of so horrid a Fact to exemplary Justice; and if it be in their Power to a pecuniary Restitution of all Damages.

But may it please your Excellency, as a Compliance with your Excellency's Recommendation to the Provincial Assembly to make up these Losses appears to this House not as an Act of Justice, but rather of Generosity, they are in doubt whether they have any Authority to make their Constituents chargeable with it, without their Express Consent: The House therefore beg Leave to acquaint your Excellency, that they have thought it their Duty to refer the Consideration of this Matter to the next Sitting of the General Court, that the Members may have the Opportunity of taking th[illegible]e and Instruction of their several

On the 27th of June the Governor sent the following Message to the House of Representatives.

"Gentlemen of the House of Representatives,

As your Reasons for not complying at present with what has been recommended to you by Order of the King, with the Advice of his Parliament, on the Behalf of the Sufferers in the late Disturbances, will probably be canvassed with great Precision; it will be proper that the Intendment of them should be as certain as may be. I should therefore be glad to know, whether I must understand from your Message of Yesterday, that it is your Opinion that a Detection of the Perpetrators of the late Mischiefs is necessary to intitle the Sufferers to a Compensation for their Losses.

It appears to be the gracious Intention of the King and Parliament, that a Veil should be cast over the late Disturbances, provided it be covered by a general and uniform dutiful Behaviour for the future. But it is certainly no less their firm and resolute Purpose, that the Sufferers by these Disturbances shall have a full and ample Indemnification made to them: And this Business has been committed to you upon Principles of Humanity and Justice, rather than of meer Generosity.

If you think that an Inquiry into the Promotion and Perpetration of the late Disorders is a necessary Preliminary to determine from whence the Charge of the Compensation shall finally come, and shall pronounce for the Expediency of such an Enquiry, you will certainly be assisted by the Governor and Council in the Prosecution of it: And I dare say it will be no difficult Work to trace this Matter to the Bottom.

But in the mean Time I fear the King and Parliament will think their Intimations disregarded, by your proposing an Enquiry now, after it has been neglected for nine Months past; during all which Time the House have had this very Business of Indemnification under their Consideration. They expect from you that the Sufferers shall be indemnified at all Events, whether the Offenders are discovered or not, or whether they are able to pay the Damages or not; and seem to be more intent upon Indemnification than Punishment.

I therefore wish, for the Sake of the Province, whose Interest, and especially those of its Trade, are now in a very nice Ballance, and for the Sake of this Town, whose respectable Inhabitants have already suffered much, in the Opinion of the World, for having been tame Spectators of the Violence committed in it, that you would remove this Disgrace, without the least Delay, by ordering the Indemnification immediately to be made, upon the Credit of those whom you shall hereafter judge to be chargeable with it. When this is done, there can be no Objection to your postponing the Consideration, on whom this Money ought ultimately to be laid, to what Time you please; and there is no Doubt but that any Enquiry, which you shall think fit to make for this Purpose, will be as efficacious as you can desire."

Upon which the House, the next Day presented to His Excellency the following Address.

"May it please your Excellency,

The House have duly attended to your Excellency's Message of the 27th Inst.——We are fully sensible of the Goodness of the King and Parliament, and agree with your Excellency, that it appears to be their gracious Intention that a Veil should be drawn over the late Disturbances. And we hope our Behaviour will always be such, as to merit their Approbation.

Sir, The House are ever attentive to the Applications of Persons of every Rank, whose Case justly claims their Consideration: But as the Sufferers whom we apprehend your Excellency refers to, have never applied to this House, (as we conceive) in a parliamentary Way for Relief; we are humbly of Opinion, that we have done all at present, that our most Gracious Sovereign and his Parliament can reasonably expect from us——But to shew our Regard to every Thing recommended by the King and Parliament, we have appointed a Committee to sit in the Recess of the Court, to make a thoro' Enquiry into the Riots committed in the Month of August last, and discover the Persons concerned therein as far as may be. For the effectuating which Business, we doubt not, but we shall be aided by your Excellency, and his Majesty's Council.

And further we would acquaint your Excellency, that the House have passed a Resolve to take the Report of this Committee under Consideration at the beginning of the next Session of this Court, & act thereon what shall appear to them to be just and reasonable.

Your Excellency is pleased to enforce the immediate Compliance of the House with this Requisition, by an Argument drawn from a Regard to the Town of Boston, the Reputation of whose Inhabitants your Excellency says has already suffered much for having been tame Spectators of the Violences committed, and that this Disgrace would be removed thereby. We see no Reason why the Reputation of that Town should suffer in the Opinion of any one, from all the Evil that has fallen under the Observation of the House; nor does it appear to us how a Compliance would remove such Disgrace, if that Town had been so unhappy as to have fallen under it."——

By His Excellency

FRANCIS BERNARD, Esq;

Captain-General and Governor in Chief, in and over His Majesty's Province of Massachusett's Bay in New England, and Vice-Admiral of the same.

A PROCLAMATION

For a Day of publick Thanksgiving.

WHEREAS the House of Representatives of this Province having in the last Session taken into their Consideration the kind Interposition of Providence in disposing our most gracious Sovereign and both Houses of Parliament to hearken to the united Supplications of his dutiful and loyal Subjects in America, and to remove the great Difficulties which the Colonies in general, and this Province in particular, laboured under, occasioned by the Stamp-Act, did resolve that the Governor be desired to appoint a Day of general Thanksgiving to be observed throughout this Province, that the good People thereof may have an Opportunity in a public Manner to express their Gratitude to Almighty GOD for his great Goodness in thus delivering them from their Anxiety and Distress and restoring the Province to its former Peace and Tranquillity; which Resolution was concurred by the Council, and has since been laid before me:

IN Pursuance of such Desire so signified unto me, I have thought fit to appoint, and I do, by and with the Advice of his Majesty's Council, appoint Thursday the Twenty fourth Day of this Instant JULY, to be a Day of Prayer and Thanksgiving; that the Ministers of GOD's holy Word may thereupon assemble to return Thanks to Almighty GOD for his Mercies aforesaid, and to desire that He would be pleased to give his People Grace to make a right Improvement of them, by observing and promoting a dutiful Submission to the Sovereign Power to which they are subordinate, and a brotherly Love and Affection to that People from whom they are derived and to whom they are nearly related by civil Policy and mutual Interests.

AND I command and enjoin all Magistrates and Civil Officers to see that the said Day be observed as a Day set apart for Religious Worship, and that no servile Labour be permitted thereon.

GIVEN at the Council Chamber in BOSTON, the Fourth Day of July, 1766, in the Sixth Year of the Reign of our Sovereign Lord GEORGE the Third, by the Grace of GOD, of GREAT-BRITAIN, FRANCE, and IRELAND, KING, Defender of the Faith, &c.

By GW BANYAR, D. Cl. Con.

BOSTON, July 14. 1766.

Wednesday an Express came to Town from the Westward, by whom we have the following Particulars: That the Inhabitants of a Place called Noble-town and Spencer-Town, lying West of Sheffield, Great-Barrington, and Stockbridge, who had purchased of the Stockbridge Indians the Lands they now possess, by Virtue of an Order of the General Court of this Province, and settled about 200 Families; — That John Van Ranslear, Esq; pretending a Right to said Lands, had treated the Inhabitants very cruelly, because they would not submit to him as Tenants, he claiming a Right to said Lands by Virtue of a Patent from the Government of New-York; — that said Ranslear some Years ago raised a Number of Men and came upon the poor People, and pulled down some Houses kill'd some People, imprisoned others, and has been constantly vexing and injuring the People: — That on the 26th of last Month said Ranslear came down with between 2 and 300 Men, all armed with Guns, Pistols and Swords; that upon Intelligence that 500 Men armed were coming against them, about 40 or 50 of the Inhabitants went out unarmed, except with Sticks, and proceeded to a Fence between them and the Assailants, in order to compromise the Matter between them: That the Assailants came up to the Fence, and Hermanus Schuyler the Sheriff of the County of Albany, fired his Pistol down amongst them, and three others fired their Guns over them: The Inhabitants thereupon desired to talk with them, and they would not hearken; but the Sheriff, it is said by some who knew him, ordered the Men to fire, who thereupon fired and killed one of their own Men, who had got over the Fence, and one of the Inhabitants likewise within the Fence—Upon this the chief of the Inhabitants unarmed as aforesaid retreated most of them into the Woods, but 12 betook themselves to the House from whence they set out, and there defended themselves with 6 Small-arms & some Ammunition that were therein: The two Parties here fired upon each other, the Assailants killed one Man in the House, and the Inhabitants wounded several of them, whom the rest carried off and retreated, to the number of 7, none of whom by the last Accounts were dead —That the Sheriff shewed no Paper, nor attempted to execute any Warrant— and the Inhabitants never offered any Provocation at the Fence, excepting their continuing there, nor had any one of them a Gun, Pistol or Sword, till they retreated to the House. At the Action at the Fence one of the Inhabitants had a Leg broke, whereupon the Assailants attempted to seize him and carry him off: he thereupon begged they would consider the Misery he was in, declaring he had rather die than be carried off, whereupon one of the Assailants said, you shall die then, and discharging his Pistol upon him, as he lay on the Ground, shot him through the Body, as the wounded Man told the Informant; that the said wounded Man was alive when he left him, but not like to continue long. The Affray happened about 16 Miles distant from Hudson's River. It is feared the Dutch will pursue these poor People for thus defending themselves, as Murderers; and keep them in great Consternation.

The New-York Account is as follows, viz. Extracts of Letters from Claverack, (near Albany) June 27. "For some Months past, a Mob has frequently assembled and ranged the Eastern Parts of the Manor of Renselaer— Last Week they appeared at Mr. Livingston's, with some Proposals to him, but he being from home, they return'd to Mr. Renselear's Son's, about two Miles from Claverack, where not finding him at home they used some insulting Words, and left a Message for Mr. Renselear, that if he did not meet them next Day at their Rendezvous, they would come to him. On the 26th, the Sheriff of Albany, with 150 Men under his Command, went to disperse the Rioters who were assembled, it is supposed, to the Number of 60, in a House on the Manor. On the Sheriff's advancing to the House, they fired upon him, and shot off his Hat and Wig, but he escaped unhurt—Many Shot were exchanged on both Sides—Of the Militia one Man, Mr. Cornelius Tenbrook, of Claverack, was killed, and seven wounded;—of the Rioters, three were killed, (two of whom were of the Ringleaders) and many wounded, among whom was Capt. Noble (one of the chief Instigators) in the Back. The Rioters retreated to Capt. Noble's House, where they form'd a Breast-Work, and did not quit the House till the Sheriff's Party left the Place. Col. Renselaer's Horse was killed under him. He afterwards went to Poughkeepsie to get Assistance from the Regulars to disperse the whole; but the Regulars were gone to Pendergast's House, on Philips's Patent."

We hear from Fredericksburg, in Dutchess County, that on Saturday last, as a Party of the Regulars, stationed there, under the Command of Major Brown, were crossing a Bridge, they were met by about 30 of the Rioters, who were going to join Pendergast, their Chief's Party,—a Skirmish ensued, wherein two of the Regulars were wounded, and it is supposed a much greater Number of the Rioters, who generally dismounted, and fled to the Corn Fields and Bushes leaving some of their Horses and Guns, which were taken, and one Prisoner; several more were taken that Night—The next Evening they sent a Flag of Truce with 50 Followers, who were all lodged in the Meeting House, and the next Day several more Parties came in. Pendergast's Wife was gone to persuade her Husband to accept of the Governor's Mer[illegible] more Wives of the Rioters, W[illegible] It was report-ed that [illegible] at Quaker-Hall intend[illegible] 30th ult. th[illegible]
